

A new probability model of the origin of COVID-19

– Stupidity Vs. Conspiracy

Will the truth ever be known?

By Gregory Brundage

Former President Trump, acting as the salable face for the “questionably bright but no doubt greedy crowd,” started a worldwide “hate China movement” that has infected some parts of the world. As with another infectious disease currently stalking Americans, this one hit the USA particularly hard.

And so on. Naturally:

Anti-Asian hate crimes rose 73% last year, updated FBI data says

It's certainly not the first time American politicians have done this, but it could be the last. We'll see. If American corporate CEOs can possibly squeeze a world war out that manufactured hatred, it might be the last time – for everything.

That hate-China movement was based on the false assertion that COVID-19 first appeared in China. That is clearly not correct as the following articles prove.

COVID Italy

Researchers find coronavirus was circulating in Italy earlier than thought

A new coronavirus was circulating in Italy in September 2019, a study by the National Cancer Institute of the Italian city of Milan shows, signaling that it might have spread beyond China earlier than thought. <https://www.reuters.com/article/health-coronavirus-italy-timing-idUSKBN27W1J2>

A critically thinking reader will instantly notice that is some cleverly worded disinformation. It assumes, without evidence of any kind whatsoever that COVID-19 spread out from China. How very Imperial of Reuters. Blame the Chinese, no matter what the evidence shows. What's to say it didn't spread out from the USA, before Italy and then China?

SARS-CoV-2 has been circulating in northern Italy since December 2019: Evidence from environmental monitoring

Twenty-four additional samples collected in the same WWTPs between September 2018 and June 2019 (i.e. long before the onset of the epidemic) were included as 'blank' samples. Viral concentration was performed according to the standard World Health Organization procedure for poliovirus sewage surveillance, with modifications. Molecular analysis was undertaken with both nested RT-PCR and real-time RT-PCR assays. A total of 15 positive samples were confirmed by both methods. The earliest dates back to 18 December 2019 in Milan and Turin and 29 January 2020 in Bologna.

Our results demonstrate that SARS-CoV-2 was already circulating in northern Italy at the end of 2019.

The most definitive research I've seen on this subject was done by four Chinese researchers who constructed a probabilistic model to determine the original source of COVID-19, and it sure appears to have originated in the US. How did they do that? They calculated spread rate and then the infection rate after China identified the disease. Apparently, it had spread out so widely in the US before it was finally identified in China, that strong statistical evidence suggests it must have been developing in the US long before China. <http://chinaxiv.org/abs/202109.00058>

And yet former president Trump hopes to ride the hate wagon back into the White House again, while the western world seethes with hatred for China. That proves beyond any doubt the power of corporate controlled western media. Facts mean nothing. Only political ambitions to maintain western hegemonic dominance of the world indefinitely matter. The 5,250,000 people killed by COVID-19 directly and another few million indirectly, mean absolutely nothing. The suffering of those who were infected by COVID-19 and "only" suffered a stroke, or perhaps lost a lung, mean nothing. That President Biden decided to continue to try to cut the world in two, riding Trump's hate-China wagon is especially unfortunate as trade protectionism never works out well.

I have my own probability model for the COVID-19 pandemic. The math of the Chinese researchers referenced above is better than mine, but I know American culture better than they do. BBC and other corporate owned media machines will assert my probabilistic model to be a "fringe conspiracy theory," however in the end facts will probably prove otherwise.

One day in early 2019 while working at the Fort Detrick biolab, two lab assistants got bored. One signaled to the other: "Let's go outside and smoke a joint (marijuana)." Neither had to say anything as there is universally understood body language for such activities. So, out they happily trotted without taking all the precautions they should have. A third party came along, and they passed the joint to him, or her. Because they were all young, none showed any symptoms but at least one was a silent carrier. From there it spread around the US, and from there to Europe, eventually reaching China, either by natural spread or perhaps someone at the Center for Disease Control found out – was silenced – and some bright penny at Langley decided to massively dose Wuhan and blame it all on the Chinese.

That theory, possibly of a conspiracy, or possibly just stupidity, does fit the facts outlined in the above published articles far better than any other theory I've read or heard thus far.

Given the stupidity of much of American foreign policies, the "Stupidity Theory" is strong, but given the maliciousness of American foreign policies, a "Conspiracy Theory" is about equally likely.

Lastly, there's this:

Both were pretty good friends with Jeffrey Epstein, no?

Is there anything either of them wouldn't do?

And,

this:

COVID-19 killed off more than twice the number of blacks as whites in the US, and greatly enriched the already fabulously rich, while making the poor poorer so the racists in the US government and the super-rich they only represent probably figure it served its purpose.

Successful experiment, but stupid and a conspiracy.

Pandora’s Box has been smashed to smithereens.

Biological warfare is now all the rage.

Where does it end?

The reader does not want to know.
